FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

FIRESIDE GAMES ANNOUNCES THE DARK TITAN
Expanding the World of Castle Panic

Fireside Games is proud to announce the release of their seventh game, The Dark Titan, in the Spring of 2015. The Dark Titan is the second expansion to the company's cooperative, fantasy game Castle Panic, which was released in 2009. The Dark Titan joins The Wizard's Tower (first expansion, released November 2012) as an exciting way to advance game play and expand the world of Castle Panic.

The story of the Castle is enhanced by the addition of The Dark Titan himself, Agranok. An unparalleled threat, Agranok has returned from banishment with a vengeance. He brings with him some new enemies that will test players like never before. The Dark Titan requires Castle Panic to play and takes approximately 1 hour. The game supports 1 to 6 players ages 12 and up and retails for $14.95. It is also compatible with The Wizard's Tower, for even more of a challenge.

To celebrate the release of The Dark Titan, Fireside Games will launch The Dark Titan Cometh Tour in January 2015, taking the game, and the company, on the road to the Denver and Salt Lake City regions with visits to local game stores. Specific tour dates and venues are booking now and will be shared on the company's website www.firesidegames.com.

Fireside Games was formed in 2007 by Austin, Texas residents Justin and Anne-Marie De Witt who believe in creating fun, innovative, and accessible board games that appeal to everyone. Justin is the primary game designer, artist, graphic designer, and manufacturing coordinator for Fireside Games. Anne-Marie provides additional game development and design, oversees day-to-day operations, and is the primary editor for Fireside Games. Previously published games are Castle Panic (September 2009), Bloodsuckers (August 2011), Bears! (September 2011), The Wizard's Tower (November 2012), Dead Panic (October 2013), and Munchkin Panic (October 2014).
